

Send a direct message to another player in Slack

You might want to send a private message to another player in Slack. You can use the 'Direct Messages' function to do this. Only you and the recipient will be able to see the message.

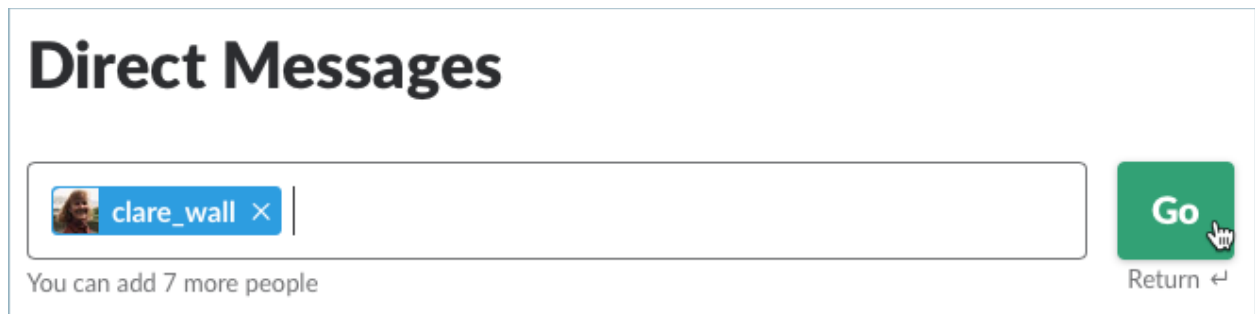

1. After you log in, on the left side of the screen, click 'Direct Messages'.

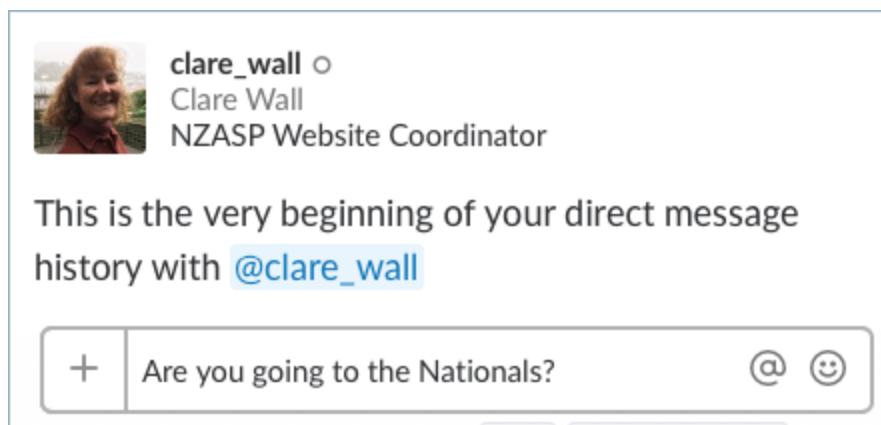

2. A list of all the people in the NZ Scrabble Slack group appears. Scroll down the list, then click on the name you want. You can select multiple people if you want to start a group chat.

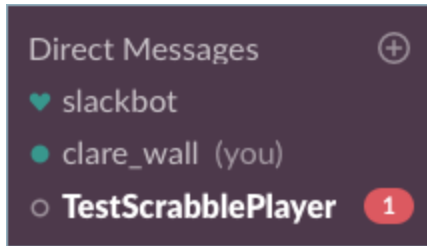

3. When you've selected all the names you need, click 'Go'.

4. Type your message. When you're finished, hit Enter.

5. If someone sends you a message, you'll see a notification in the Direct Messages section of Slack. Click on the name to open the message and reply.

END